Nixon wants Watergate behind him

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon's 1973 campaign to put Watergate behind him once and forever has begun in earnest with the embattled President embracing the role of underdog.

After holding an unorthodox live television-radio news conference Saturday in which he felt compelled to assure his fellow citizens that "I am not a crook," Nixon made a flying trip to politically friendly Georgia Sunday that had all the earmarks of a quest for votes.

Resorting to the sort of regional appeal beloved by politicians, Nixon paid tribute to the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League as "the comeback team of 1973" because it won five straight games after opening the season with one win and three losses. Perhaps, he mused to a Macon audience, he should talk to Falcon coach Norm Van Brocklin "and find out how they did it."

Although the Macon stop produced a sometimes-noisy demonstration by several hundred young people who chanted for resignation or impeachment, the large crowds of Georgians who turned out were generally friendly, if far less enthusiastic than most campaign gatherings.

After a week of private huddles in Washington with congressional Republicans and selected southern Democrats, Nixon has gone public with a Watergate counterattack that is expected to produce more public appearances, sessions with the news media and presidential statements.

Nixon's decision to go marching through Georgia, officially to honor the 90th birthday of retired Democratic Rep. Carl Vinson and the 100th anniversary of the Mercer University Law School, was made within recent days.

In similar fashion, the President gave little advance notice of his Saturday TV-radio appearance at the Disney World, Fla., convention of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

Both stops, plus a Tuesday stopover at a Republican governors conference in Memphis en route back to Washington, were fitted quickly into the blueprint for Nixon's most ambitious effort yet to dispel the Watergate cloud that has enveloped him.

Three die in accident

Three persons were killed, including a 4- year - old boy, and five other persons were injured in an accident at 4:10 a.m. Sunday on Highway 60 one mile east of Charleston when this car, driven by Mack Field, 30, of Chicago, came around a curve on the wrong side of the road and collided with a tractor- trailer truck driven by Charles Hames, 39, of Walls, Miss. In head-on collision

Three die near Charleston

Two out - of - state men and a 4 - year - old boy were killed and 10 persons were injured in five area traffic accidents during the weekend, the highway patrol reported today.

The three fatalities occurred in a head-on collision at 4:10 a.m. Sunday one mile east of Charleston on Highway 60 which also injured six persons.

The accident occurred when an eastbound car driven by Mack Field, 30, of Chicago came around a curve on the wrong side of the road and struck a westbound tractor- trailer truck driven by Charles Hames, 39, of Walls, Miss.

Field and passengers Albert Ray Yarbrought, 47, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Stephen Westbrook, 4, of Marianna, Ark., were killed in the crash.

Injured were car passengers Al Yarbrought, 25, of Milwaukee, serious condition; Florence Mitchell, 32, of Chicago, critical; Carolyn Westbrook, 8, of Marianna, serious; and Alice Westbrook, 26, and Minnie Westbrook, 6, of Marianna, Ark., minor injuries; and Hames, minor injuries. All were taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

An accident at 11:15 a.m. Saturday at the interchange of Interstate 55 and Highway 51 at Perryville resulted in minor injuries to Manuel Finchum, 35, of Jackson.

The patrol reported that a southbound car driven by Virginia Finchum, 35, of Jackson attempted to make a left turn in front of a northbound car driven by Thomas Tucker, 32, of Perryville and the cars sideswiped each other.

Finchum was taken to a doctor's office in Perryville.

Jimmy Lee Sloan, 24, of Sikeston received minor injuries at 10:30 p.m. Saturday when his tractor-trailer truck ran off a gravel road five miles north of Sikeston and overturned.

Sloan was treated at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston and released.

Winfred Eugene Delmar, 72, of Fredericktown was slightly injured at 5:15 p.m. Sunday when his car ran off a gravel road two miles north of Roselle in Iron County and struck a tree.

Delmar was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Ironton.

A Kansas woman was injured at 9:40 p.m. Sunday in an accident on Highway 21 one mile south of Arcadia.

The patrol said the accident occurred when a southbound car driven by Cheryl Devona Boatright, 21, of Ironton, made a left turn and was struck by a southbound car driven by Ronald J. Darr, 31, of Hutchison, Kan.

Peggy Darr of Hutchison, received minor injuries and was taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

Bond considering a special session

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Several legislators were predicting today that Gov. Christopher S. Bond would call a special session, but the word from the governor's office was that no decision had been reached.

Bond, who will return from the National Republican Governors' Conference Tuesday, has said he was seriously considering calling a special session and would announce Wednesday whether he would or not.

Some legislators have been urging since last summer that a special session be held to work out oreorganization of the executive branch.

Bond's staff has drafted a bill similar to a House version favored by Bond last June. He vetoed the compromise bill, more like the Senate version, saying it didn't give enough authority to department directors.

Another bill is being drafted by the Senate and this also will be considered when the special session begins.

Rep. Joe Holt, D-Fulton, chairman of the House Reorganization Committee, said Bond discussed the possibility of a special session with him and Reps. Robert Snyder, R-Kirkwood, and Harold Volkmer, D-Hannibal. Snyder is the House minority leader and Volkmer sponsored the House oreganization bill last session.

Holt said he thought the session would be called the first week of December.

Reports were going around that Bond also would give the legislators three

Light poles added

Sikeston Light and Water Co. crews are installing additional street lights which will extend the lighting on North Main to the north city limits. The lights conform to Missouri State Highway Department regulations, which require "break-away" lighting standards. Cost of the project involving 15 new standards is $7,273.63.

Dogs released at city pound

Someone opened the pen at the city dog pound Sunday afternoon and released 15 dogs, according to humane officer Bob Beardsley.

The dogs were released between 1 and 3 p.m. Five of the dogs returned to the pound after he arrived, Beardsley said.

High court rejects state abortion law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today rejected Missouri's search for a loophole in the high court's decision granting women the right to abortions during the first six months of pregnancy.

The court affirmed a three-judge district court's decision declaring Missouri abortion law unconstitutional.

The lower court based its decision on the Supreme Court ruling last January that allowed states to place substantial restrictions on abortion only during last three months of pregnancy.

Missouri Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth argued, however, that the decision did not strike down state laws which prohibited all abortions except those necessary to save the liefe of the mother or child.

Drugs, money taken Sunday

CHAFFEE — Tee's Prescription Store was broken into Sunday night or early today and $30 and an undetermined amount of drugs were taken, according to Chaffee police, who discovered the burglary on a routine check.

A glass window on the back door was broken to get into the building, located at 108 W. Yoakum St.

Risco man killed by a tractor

RISCO — Herbert E. Joiner, 68, of Risco was fatally injured at 4 p.m. Saturday in a tractor accident on his farm three miles southwest of Risco.

The highway patrol said Joiner apparently started the tractor from the ground while the tractor was in gear and was run over by the tractor and a loaded cotton trailer.

Joiner was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti where he died at 5:20 p.m.

He was born May 15, 1905 in Campbell.

Thieves get fishing gear and sandwich

Police said today that fishing equipment was taken from a car belonging to police officer Gary Brown while the car was parked at Reynolds Garage on South Main Street.

The car was damaged Nov. 4 when Brown tried to stop three men burglarizing McConnell's Magnavox Home Entertainment Center at Kingsway Plaza Mall when the burglars fled in a car which struck Brown's auto.

The fishing equipment, owned by officer John Blankenbeker, was in the trunk of the car.

It was discovered missing soon after the accident, but was just reported this weekend. The equipment consisted of two reels, two rods and about $65 worth of tackle.

A burglar ransacked Trinity Baptist Church, Highway 61 North, Sunday afternoon, but got nothing but a peanut butter sandwich that he made himself.

Police said someone entered the church between noon and 3 p.m. by breaking out a window.

Police said desk drawers had been tampered with and a coin box was removed from a soft drink machine, but apparently nothing was taken.

The thief made a peanut butter sandwich in the kitchen and helped himself to a soft drink before leaving the building.

A spare tire was taken from a car belonging to Ed Williams, 213 Ruth St., sometime between 2 p.m. Friday and 11 a.m. Saturday, according to police.

The tire was taken from the trunk of the car while it was parked in the parking lot at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Rutledge seeks more UFO data

ST. LOUIS (AP) — More data will be needed before any explanation can be given for the sightings of strange objects in the skies over southeast Missouri, according to a university physics professor.

Dr. Harvey D. Rutledge, chairman of the physics department at Southeast Missouri State University at Cape Girardeau, presented the results of a study he made of the sightings to the Missouri section of the American Association of Physics Teachers meeting here Saturday.

"I don't want to refer to them as UFO's or flying saucers. They were unusual lights. I don't want to speculate beyond that without additional data," Rutledge said.

He and a volunteer group of physics students and astronomers conducted field observations for 78 nights in and near the cities of Piedmont, Farmington, Fredericktown, Cape Girardeau and Sikeston.

During 38 of the observations, which covered the period from April 6 to Nov. 10, "unusual lights" were observed and photographed, Rutledge told the group of interested physicists.

The lights, colored orange and green, darted at varying speeds and sometimes moved rapidly across the sky. At other times they blinked on and off, said Rutledge, who has been at SEMO State since 1963.

He presented about 20 slides, most of them time exposures of six to 10 seconds, showing streaks of light in the darkened sky. One photograph showed a wiggly streak, which when enlarged, revealed coil-like spirals originating from the streak.

He said nothing "solid" could be found in the sky by radar on the nights the lights were observed. He added that on two occasions he saw lights being followed by jet aircraft.

During a question and answer period, one physicist asked Rutledge if he thought the lights could have been caused by microwaves similar to those which transmit television pictures over long distances.

Rutledge acknowledged the possibility, but said scientific instruments were not available during his study to investigate that angle.

He said he hoped for additional funding to proceed with further studies using more sophisticated equipment.

Rutledge began his investigation after a high school basketball coach and five of his players reported watching wideeyed an unidentified flying object Feb. 21. Since that time there have been numerous reports of such sightings in southeast Missouri and southern Illinois.

THANKSGIVING AND REPENTANCE

It is a mark of a nation's greatness that it remembers its deliverances, giving God thanks for them, and Thanksgiving Day is well marked as one of the most important days in the nation's calendar, celebrating as it does the survival over the first year of American pioneer families. The first winter had been hard and long; but the harvest had now been gathered in and they faced another winter of bitter weather in circumstances which gave them confidence for their future lives in this great land. Americans have never forgotten to say "thank You," taking example from the Hebrew people who every year at Passover remember how God saved them from bondage in Egypt and brought them out to cross the Red Sea and occupy the Promised Land.

There was a later occasion, however, when they were not so sure of survival. Their land was besieged "because of their wrongdoing," the prophets said, and with dwindling supplies of food they faced possible starvation. "The harvest is past," cried Jeremiah (8:20), "the summer is ended, and we are not saved." How could they possibly reap when the enemy stood in the fields? How could they possibly reap when they had been unable to sow!

Thanksgiving Day should give us cause for gratitude that our barns and our coffers are full despite our wickedness. Reading in our newspapers of war and crime and infidelity, the growing fear of being out in the city streets at night, we can say, "He hath not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities."

Offsetting the defiance of God and cruelty to man which is among us, there is, however, a large body of Christian people in our land who, like the remnant of Israel, are the salvation of the nation. This is why Key 73, to be launched on January 6-7 next year, is so significant. Churchmen of all demoniations will be united in an all-out call to all men to forsake their sins and to follow Christ. Stage 1 in this evangelistic endeavor has the theme "Calling Our Continent to Repentance," and Salvation Army soldiers in all its centers will be making their own acts of penitence and thanksgiving before the year begins, so that with a Day of Commitment at the beginning of the year Salvationists will be ready to call others to the same consecration.

Repentance at Thanksgiving might begin with the fact that, while we are gorging ourselves, about 10,000 in this world will have died of hunger. Yet our repentance must go deeper. Our selfishness is rooted in our spiritual life. What we exhibit on a material plane we harbor in the secret places of our hearts. "Lord, save us from our selfishness" should read "Lord save us from our sins," for the two are synonymous.

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is time's best friend.

Steadfastly it stands by you for a lifetime, helping to alleviate the wounds of the past, helping to reconcile you to the wounds of today.

It does not desert you under pressure. It will not betray you to your foes. It is true to you as your own breath. Without memory neither you nor all your yesterdays would have any meaning.

But you've got enough memories for life to mean a lot to you if you can look back and remember when —

Only the secretary of the top boss in the office had an electric typewriter. It was her biggest sign of prestige.

Men's neckties were too thin to hide a ketchup spot on their shirtfront.

When they took up the Sunday collection in a rural church, the only sound heard was the clinking of coins never the rustle of folding money.

In the average home there was more dust on the dictionary than the family Bible.

When a city girl visited her country cousins they thought she was stuck up because she used dental floss instead of toothpicks.

One of the ordeals of childhood in winter was to have to take a shivery bath in a washtub on the kitchen floor every Saturday night — whether you felt like you needed a bath or not.

There were still more people in America who knew how to hitch up a orse and buggy than could drive an automobile.

It was cheaper to take a little girl to a public park because all she wanted was a gas-filled bright balloon. Little boys, on the other hand, insisted on having a skull cap with a propeller on it that whirled when they ran.

The farmer could complain with some justice that the government did something for everybody but him.

An ice cream cone cost a nickel — and was worth it. Ice cream itself came only in three flavors — chocolate, strawberry and vanilla.

You could look at a teen-ager and tell at first glance what sex it was.

Those were the days — remember?

THE HIGH COST OF PROTECTING THE PRESIDENT

James J. Rowley, director of the Secret Service, testified before a congressional committee in Washington on Oct. 10 that personnel costs to safeguard President Richard M. Nixon's private residences at Key Biscayne, Fla., and San Clemente, Calif., added as much as $500,000 a year to the $10,000,000 in federal funds already disclosed as having been spent on the two homes.

Mr. Rowley did tell the committee the figure might be a bit high, but evidently it has to be somewhere in that area or he would not have mentioned half a million dollars. He said that the personal desires of the President or his representatives played a role in spending for security and might have added to the government's cost.

One of the items brought out in the investigation was that of a fence at Key Biscayne. The original fence did not suit Mr. Nixon's old buddy, Charles B. Rebozo, and the plans were changed. Total cost of the fence finally came to $60,000. It was a fence that resembled that around the White House.

There are so many things that it seems the Nixon family has to have to make things right for them. The only trouble is that for everything the family asks there is always an added charge. The fence is a right good example.

SURE ENOUGH, ILL WINDS BLOW GOOD

Good old American enterprise is being tested but has not yet been found wanting in the current energy crisis. Or to put it another way, in adversity, there is always opportunity, public relations-wise.

For example, the Highway Users Federation, which is not dedicated to the disuse of the nation's streets and highways, reports that according to a study it conducted, buses and cars carrying two or more persons provide the most economic means of commuting

When all economic costs were considered, including the capital costs for purchases of the vehicles, parking costs and all costs related to construction, maintenance and operation of highways and facilities for bus and rail transit, rail transit trips were found to be the most expensive of all means of commuting (except for an automobile carrying only a driver).

Thus the best answer to the problem of traffic congestion, as well as the gasoline pinch, may be to "pool it."

Another organization, the Recreational Vehicle Institute, has also put out a release.

Disturbed at reports that many people are reluctant to plan summer vacations and weekend trips out of concern for the energy shortage, or are delaying purchase of recreational vehicles for the same reason, it claims that a family on vacation with a recreational vehicle uses less than one-fourth the amount of energy consumed at home.

"A family of four living in an average- sized home normally uses around four times more electricity and natural gas than the same family on vacation," says the Institute's president Robert L. Stewart.

And as far as gasoline is concerned, he points out that with 1973 pollution control equipment, there is little different between a 1973 sedan and a medium motor home or a car towing an average- sized travel trailer.

Where this leaves the person with a large - sized motor home or both a 1973 sedan AND a trailer is not quite clear.

Maybe we had better think about pooling our vacations, too.

To fight the drug traffic in their city, the Downtown Ontario (Calif.) Merchants Assn. formed WE TIP (We Turn In Pushers). Anyone can phone in a tip, remain anonymous, and collect a reward (up to $500) if the pusher is apprehended. The caller receives a code number and is paid in cash so no one (not even the police) knows the identity of the informant.

It is working. Within 4½ months over 600 tips have been received with numerous arrests made. Addicts have been known to turn in their own sources to help support their habit. Pushers no longer know whom they can trust. This plan can be used in any community. For information write to Bill Brownell, WE TIP, P. O. Box 524, Ontario, Calif. 91761.

MORE CHALLENGES ON PRONO IN VIEW

If prostitution is the world's oldest profession, pornography must be the world's oldest literary and art form.

Every society with a complexity beyond the primitive hunting level has had to deal with either or both, and history records varying degrees of success or lack of it. Approaches have run the gamut from complete acceptance to mere toleration to outright suppression. That both problems are still with us says much about human nature.

Now once again, after 15 years. the United States Supreme Court has laid down rules to govern, or attempt to govern, pornography.

We seemed, by virtue of previous decisions of the court, to have been moving toward some sort of grudging accomodation with a phenomenon that simply will not go away. According to some critics, this latest attempt to formulate guidelines represents a step backward (depending upon how one defines retrogression or progress in this matter).

Certain it is that the court's decision will not be the last word on pornography. The fact that it was such a close decision — five justices to four — virtually guarantees this.

By returning to local communities the rights to handle the problem as they see fit, the court may only have prepared the way for another series of legal challenges such as we witnessed during the days of the "Warren Court."

In writing the majority opinion, Chief Justice Burger stated that "to equate the free and robust exchange of ideas and political debate with commercial exploitation of obscene material demeans the grand conception of the First Amendment and its high purpose in the historic struggle for freedom."

But it has also been demeaning to the high court, not to mention innumerable lower courts, that over the years they have had to devote so much of their valuable time to poring over material of more or less shoddiness to determine if the rest of the population may see or read it, or to find in it some shred of "redeeming social value" (another Warren Court dictum that has now gone by the boards).

It will be no less demeaning to state legislatures that they will now be empowered to spell out in explicit language the kinds of sexual expression which may be prohibited according to guidelines by Chief Justice Burger, guidelines which themselves make for rather spicy reading.

Whatever one's personal attitude toward pornography may be, it is almost ridiculous that so much time, so much energy and so much judicial thought has been and no doubt will continue to be expanded on a matter that is really one of the lesser problems facing American society.

While "everyone knows pornography when he sees it," a long list of books, films and other works now accepted but once suppressed is proof that a lot of people see it where others don't. This isn't going to change.

IN SILENT REBUKE

Newsweek magazine has devoted a special section to what it called "The Energy Crisis". It explains in great detail many aspects of the growing energy shortage. Most of them have been discussed and debated for months and years. The crisis, as Newsweek calls it, is largely the work of misguided public policies, environmental extremism and the antitechnology crusaders who have managed to sell the idea that somehow civilization can retreat from the Twentieth Century to the days of candlelight and wood fires and be better off.

The Newsweek feature leads off with a single poignant picture that forcefully brings home what a literal return to the "old days" would signify. The picture shows an empty Denver school room with one person, presumably a teacher, bundled up in an overcoat sitting alone reading a book. A fuel shortage had closed the school. Thirty to 40 empty school desks stand in silent rebuke to a nation and a people who have permitted zealotry, plain ignorance and political tomfoolery in the field of energy to literally bring human learning and progress to a halt. The picture is a powerful condemnation of the kinds of fads, cults and crusades that have been carried to such an extreme that they threaten the security of the nation.

WRIGHT'S DESERT HOME WINS 25- YEAR AWARD

Taliesin West, built as a desert camp in Arizona in 1938 by Frank Lloyd Wright, his associates and students has been given the American Institute of Architects' 25- Year Award.

This honor is given in recognition of architectural design of enduring significance to structures at least 25 years old.

First conceived as a short period residence, Mr. Wright and his associates came to use it for longer periods each year. The complex of structures was expanded and some of its original components were replaced with more permanent materials, all adhering to Mr. Wright's master plan for development.

Pietro Belluschi, FAIA chairman said, "The years have not diminished the elemental quality of Taliesin West. More than other works by this master, it shows how to grasp the mood of the land and transform it into a place of harmony and beauty. Here one understands the magic of man's primeval relationship to nature."

The Institutes' 25- Year Award was presented in 1969 to Rockefeller Center in New York City; in 1971 to Crow Island School in Winnetka, Ill., and in 1972 to the Los Angeles residential development of Baldwin Hills Village.

QUICK AND SIMPLE

A very wise advertising man said good newspaper advertising headlines are those that make the quickest, simplest and most believable impression on the reader. He listed the following rules for good advertising headlines:

1. There must be appeal to the right audience.
2. The headlines must be easy to understand and be direct.
3. The headlines must be brief and have a quick message.
4. The headlines must be believeable and self- proving.
5. There must be appeal to readers.
6. The headlines must have self- interest to draw the attention of the reader.

Other good elements for headlines, he said, include next, timeliness, testimonials, sex appeal, free, curiosity, and price.

TAIWAN'S "SECRET"

Free China on Taiwan, abandoned by her erstwhile friends in the free world, scorned in the news media and still the object of relentless hostility from all the communist powers, continues to survive and grow. The reason lies in one concept, the same concept which explains our own nation's rise to world power: the personal enterprise, profit- motive system.

Per capita income on Taiwan has doubled in the last six years and is expected to double again in the next four. According to the economic counselor of the U. S. Embassy in Taipei, "Taiwan is having the highest rate of growth in foreign trade of any significant trading nation in the world." With only 15 million people, Taiwan matches the full value of foreign trade of the communist colossus on the mainland with 750 million people. In other words, per capita each Taiwanese in freedom is producing as much in world trade as 50 mainland Chinese in slavery.

In just 10 years from now, Taiwan is expected to stand sixth in the entire world in volume of world trade. No wonder that even the left- side magazine Nation in the Philippines recently reported that "all over Taiwan the air is alive with the electric spark of creation."

The often- criticized government of Chian Kai- shek has had the rare wisdom to allow the personal enterprise profit- motive system to function and to bear its fruits with only a minimum of restraint. By doing so, the world has had another lesson in how this great engine of production and prosperity works. Still, ideological blinders are keeping many from seeing and learning from that lesson. HLH

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:

Nixon Wastes Fuel

WASHINGTON-- To save critical fuels, President Nixon has called upon his fellow Americans to turn down their thermostats. "That means in this room, too," he said solemnly.

He also cut back the allocations of jet fuel for aircrafts and asked governors to reduce highway speeds to 50 miles per hour. Afterwards, he showed up late for a dinner honoring his wife Pat and cracked: "I'm sorry I'm late. I could drive only 50 miles an hour."

The truth is that the President and his aides haven't been practicing the austerity they have been preaching. He drafted his public appeal in balmy Key Biscayne, Fla., where the warm sun kept the temperatures comfortable. His luxury jet burned 8,000 gallons of fuel to make the round trip.

The following weekend, he helicoptered to his Camp David retreat, which is only about an hour from the White House at 50 miles per hour. The round trip took an estimated 140 gallons of fuel.

DOG MUST SHARE

He has made one concessions to the fuel pinch, according to our White House sources. His Irish Setter, King Timahoe, who is a difficult helicopter passenger, used to follow the President to Camp David in solitary splendor in the back seat of a chauffeur-driven limousine. Now the dog must share his limousine with low- ranking White House aides.

For a man who has devoted a lifetime to striving to reach the White House, Richard Nixon spends less time there than any past president. But a spokesman told us the President has no plans to curtail his travel.

The men around the President have also displayed little spirit of sacrifice. Energy czar John Love, who wants his fellow citizens to drive slower and drive less, is whisked around Washington in a Chrysler New Yorker from the White House motor pool. His chauffeur pickes him up at his home in the mornings and deposits him at his doorstep at night.

Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton declared on national television that "energy has been too cheap" in the United States. Gasoline is $1.35 a gallon in Italy, he remarked, in an obvious hint that American motorists should be paying more for their gas.

HIS GAS PAID FOR

The taxpayers, of course, pay for Morton's gasoline. As a concession, he has given up his White House Chrysler and now gets around in a government-owned Plymouth-- chauffeur-driven, of course.

When he flies, the six- foot-seven- inch Morton goes first class, courtesy of the taxpayers-- because he is too big, he complains, "to fit into a coach seat." He also makes use of Interior Department airplanes, but only said a spokesman, "when his schedule is screwed up."

The Pentagon has also made a big show of reducing temperatures and cutting back fuel consumption. But this hasn't cramped the lifestyle of the military brass. The Pentagon still operates its sleek fleet of chauffeur- driven cars to ferry around the brass and their bigwig friends.

The demand for VIP limousine service is so great, in fact, that the Pentagon is forced to rent cars to supplement its motor pool

JUNKETS

Nor has the military curtailed its personalized worldwide flight service for junketing congressmen and other assorted VIPs. Three days after the President's TV appeal to save fuel, the Army ferried a planeload of congressmen and military officers to West Point for the Army- Miami University football game.

Throughout the government, indeed, the bureaucrats are burning more gas than ever. Government automobiles burned 34 million more gallons of gasoline in 1973 than in 1972. And despite the oil squeeze, the projected increase for 1974 is an additional 30 million- gallon increase.

Down the line, the bureaucrats apparently take their example from the President who has his own fleet of five jetliners, 15 helicopters, 11 Jetstars, 23 limousines and a yacht.

Technically, the aircraft are owned by the military which has asked Congress for money to buy 17 new choppers to replace those now in use. Two more jumbo communications planes are also being outfitted and the White House is shopping for four more medium- range jets.

TEST FLIGHTS

When the President isn't using his personal air force, the planes are routinely taken aloft for test flights so they will also be in top condition when he calls. Usually, a back- up plane and a press plane accompany the President on all major flights, carrying everything from the hot line phone to the First Lady's hairdresser.

These Boeing 707 jetliners each consume about 2,000 gallons of fuel per hour. A round- trip to San Clemente, in other words, used up 20,000 gallons. If all three presidential planes make the flight, as they normally do, the fuel consumption adds up to a staggering 60,000 gallons every time the President decides to spend a few days at San Clemente.

Meanwhile, Nixon has lowered the temperature at the White House where his staff works while he is at San Clemente or Key Biscayne.

Oil Boycott Beneficial?

White House Brain Truster Sees Hysteria But No National Energy Crisis

And, since this White House adviser is Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz, it's worth reporting that he is attempting to cool the heated gloom- and- doom predictions of national disaster. These include one industrialist's announcement that our entire way of life and the American system itself soon will collapse because of the Arab oil boycott.

And the fantastically erudite world- traveled Shultz says: "Some 85 per cent of our energy is produced in the U. S. and nobody can boycott us out of that 85 per cent. Further, the boycott may be a blessing in disguise. Now we must do what we need to do. Let's not be dependent on them (the Arab sheiks, kings, emirs and sultans-- VR)."

Shultz adds that this nation is in a boom. We must reduce our fuel demand 15 per cent, or find the 15 per cent by cutting unessential use without hurting the economy-- give industry what it needs to maintain employment levels even if it means keeping homes cooler and slowing the speed of pleasure- bound cars.

Backing this upbeat thrust is a General Accounting Office report developed by the GAO's foreign staffs operating mostly in Frankfurt, Germany, and London.

This virtually unreported document reveals the U. S. imports about 29 per cent of our oil, and only 9 per cent of this is from the Middle East, and not all of it has been slashed.

Why then the hysteria? Some of it is justified since joblessness is beginning-- repeat, beginning-- to develop across the land. Some of the hysteria is simply alarmist. Such as the Women's Christian Temperance Union's demand for the slowing of whiskey-making.

And the rather startling, seemingly overheated prediction by Robert Anderson, chairman of Atlantic- Richfield Co., who announced that some 7 million to 8 million Americans will be jobless in four months if the Arab boycott continues and there is no American accommodation with the Arabs.

Shultz appears to be supported by White House domestic affairs chief Mel Laird who told some of us at lunch the other day that we can recoup some 15 per cent of our missing energy needs by upping Texas production, by using some Naval Petroleum Reserves, and some new tax techniques, just for starters.

Why then is serious trouble developing on the industrial front? In Buffalo, N. Y., the other night I learned of one big oil- less plant awaiting midnight word from its Canadian fuel suppliers on whether they would ship in enough oil to enable the plant to open.

From Chicago word came to the AFL- CIO headquarters that there was a crippling shortage of propane gas on some construction work.

National AFL- CIO construction trades department leaders report job layoffs in Ohio because there isn't enough fuel to run the big cranes and other construction machinery. T. W. A. laid off 1,000 employes including 100 pilots when it slashed fuel-wasting flights.

Complaints are coming in right "across the board," said one labor spokesman who is at the receiving end of a network of informatipn pipelines from coast to coast.

Extremely significant is the Nov. 14 letter dispatched by Teamsters general president Frank Fitzsimmons to Sen. Henry Jackson, floor leader of the push for a national energy control bill.

Fitz endorsed the bill-- but warned that the 50- mile- an- hour speed limit on commercial vehicles would cut the union drivers' income down by 20 per cent. Drivers are paid by the mile as well as by straight rates.

Fitz warned that the Teamsters never could accept the slower speed gas- saving measure-- and the union would move to reopen the national master freight hauling contract it signed with the Trucking Employers, Inc., earlier this year, covering some 400,000 men. Other unions would follow suit.

There could be industrial and labor upheavals. Yet this nation is less than 15 per cent behind the energy supply of normal years. There's a mystery here which needs solving-- planning, yes; panic, no.

Burglars strike

ESSEX — The Stoddard County sheriff's department is investigating a burglary which occurred sometime over the weekend at a farm shop owned by Jimmy Jones near the Hunterville community east of here.

Taken in the burglary were two cases of motor oil, a battery, transmission fluid, anti-freeze and gasoline.

The thief got in by prying open the shop door.

Jones was away on a weekend deer hunting trip.

Agriculture is Canada's prime industry, although it employs less than 8 per cent of its labor force.

Firemen answer 3 calls

Firemen were called out three times Saturday.

They were called at 3:20 p.m. to the back of the Malone and Hyde property where a cutting torch had set fire to weeds.

At 4:20 p.m., they were called to Hart's Bakery when fuel oil was spilled. The oil was pumped up and taken to another location to be dumped.

At 7:20 p.m., a car belonging to Don Culbertson caught fire in the parking lot at Wal- Mart Discount City on East Malone Avenue. The fire was caused by a carburetor backfire. Damage was minor.

Of course we believe in the hereafter. Our neighbor is always hereafter something.

Ann Landers

"Lookers" sometimes turn into "buyers"

Dear Ann Landers: Do a lot of people a favor and print this. It's for those folks who are "just looking."

I've been working in retail shops for 30 years. If I don't know the score by now I never will. I can tell a buyer from a "looker" a mile away. But some of the less experienced salespeople can't. It's no crime to walk into a store and browse. Many shops encourage it. But it isn't fair to tie up a salesperson for 30 minutes trying on everything in the place just to kill time. That salesperson might be on commission. While he is fooling around with you he may be losing important commissions on serious customers.

So please tell your readers to play fair. If they are "just looking," it's perfectly O. K. But have the courtesy to say so.— Falling Arches

Dear Arch: I'm sure you know your business better than I do but some "lookers" turn into buyers. Moreover, the salesperson who is courteous and friendly to everyone who walks into a store whether he buys or not is going to run a bigger book in the long haul.

Dear Ann Landers: My nine- year- old brother has figured out a way to annoy me and I am at his mercy. He creeps up behind me very quietly and I don't know he's there. He suddenly grabs me around the neck like he's going to strangle me and screams "I gotcha!" I live in Boston so you can see how serious this is.

Will you please tell me what I can do to protect myself? I have told Mom and she says it's not such a terrible thing and she doesn't want to hear any more about it. I am 13 years old and I read your column every single day. I need some of your good advice.— Brookline Goosepimples

Dear Goose: People who are frightened in that manner have been known to throw a wild punch at the unknown attacker— in self- defense, of course. I am a believer in nonviolence, but there are times (like Pearl Harbor) when it is imperative that retaliatory measures be taken.

Dear Ann Landers: I do not agree that "so long as children get an allowance anyway" they should get paid for doing chores around the house.

The "what's in it for me" attitude is all too prevalent in our society. Why should we promote it by paying a child for cleaning up his own room?

Our son would no sooner expect to be paid for taking out the family garbage than I would expect to be paid for cooking a meal. He doesn't expect to be paid for taking out the garbage for the elderly lady next door either, but sometimes she bakes cookies for him. No charge.

Our oldest daughter babysits for us and for a young mother who recently lost her husband. Sometimes she is paid with money and other times with words of appreciation, but she doesn't feel underpaid either way.

Our children are richer for having learned that family members help each other and expect nothing in return. In this way they learn to help others. And isn't this what brotherly love is all about?— Rich But Not Wealthy In Austin

Dear R. But Not W.: I happen to believe that tying daily chores to a child's allowance is a good way to teach the relationship between work, responsibility and rewards. There are still many things a child can do for which he gets nothing more than warm thanks. And every parent should see to it that his child gets those opportunities.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do. Read the booklet, "Alcoholism— Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self- addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 3346, Chicago, Ill. 60654.

How to recognize and report a gas leak.
At Associated Natural Gas Company we stay alert for signs of trouble. Once in a while in our hundreds of miles of pipeline there may be a gas leak. Therefore, you can help us if you recognize a gas leak and report it to us so that we can correct the problem immediately.
How to detect a gas leak:
Natural gas cannot be seen and it is odorless. However, we've added a chemical to the gas so that if it ever does leak out, you can smell a particular odor.
In case of an underground leakage, vegetation nearby sometimes becomes discolored. For example, yellow spots may appear on foliage or grass.
What to do if you suspect a leak:
If you suspect a gas leak, report the location immediately to the nearest Associated Natural Gas Company office. Take care to prevent a spark.
If you suspect a leak indoors, open the doors and windows to allow the gas to escape. Call your local Associated Natural Gas Company office and report the leak immediately.

Lilbourn No. 1

By BILL HARRISON

WARDELL — The Lilbourn Panthers took the championship of the North Pemiscot invitational tournament here Saturday night with a 63-61 victory over the host Mustangs. New Madrid won the consolation game 60-44 over Delta C-7.

After a lack lustre shooting performance by both clubs the game ended in spectacular fashion as the score was tied with a minute and half left in the game and coach Larry Warren had his Panthers stall as NPHS stayed in their 2-3 zone and the clock ticked away until Lilbourn called time out with 15 seconds showing. With four seconds remaining Carl Meadows drove in from the left side and hit a five foot jumper to give the Panthers the win. The Mustangs had the ball with two seconds left but missed the shot that could have tied the game.

Lilbourn jumped out in front in the first few minutes of the first period and looked as if they would make easy work of the Mustangs but some missed shots and numerous fouls, which coach Warren questioned vigorously, let the Mustangs hand in the game until the final buzzer.

Both teams were getting a lot of iron on their shots and a few air balls were put up.

NPHS took a four point lead in the third period as Jerry Stewart, a 5-10 sophomore guard began to hit with good regularity. Lilbourn's Claude McFerren hit two jumpers from the 30 foot range and the Panthers were back in the game.

The two teams traded buckets throughout the fourth period until Lilbourn took over at the end.

The New Madrid Indians had little trouble with the Delta C-7 Chargers of coach Randy Benson. The Indians were able to work the ball inside for the easy jumper most of the game.

Braves surprise PHS

MORLEY — Coach Ronnie Cookson played giant killer again Friday night as his little Scott Central Braves whipped the Parma Pirates 66-61 for their second win of the young season in which Cookson's boys weren't expected to have a winning season.

The Braves don't look like much as far as basketball is concerned but when the game is started Scott Central moves into high gear and their opponent had better have a firm grip on the ball or the ball hawking Braves slap it loose and dump in two points.

The Braves rely on their quick hands and hustle to outmaneuver the opposition and so far the giants have fell.

SCHS started their press early against the Pirates and with Robert Cook, Danny Peet, and Kenny Bright doing the scoring the Braves held a two point, 14-12 first period lead.

Before the Pirates could solve the defensive tactics of the smaller Braves Coach Cookson's little pest had outscored Mark Rasher's Pirates 16-12 in the second period and held a 30-24 halftime lead.

The Braves came out in the second half and continued to give Parma more than they could handle and managed to keep control of the game as Parma popped in 19 points to 18 for Scott Central.

The five point lead enjoyed by the Braves held up through the final eight minutes of play as each team scored 18 points.

SCHS hit 26 field goal shots and 14 free throws and Parma hit 25 from the field and 11 free tosses.

Kenny Bright, last years standout defensive performer proved again to be a game player as the 6-1 post man missed practice all week with illness, pumped in 18 points to lead the Braves in scoring and pulled down 14 rebounds. Bright missed practice prior to the Advance game and blocked several shots and scored 24 points. Danny Peet hit 16 and Cook socred 14. Steve Gibson hit 16 and Rufus Barnes scored 14.

Scott Central won the B game 67-44 with Porter scoring 26 points followed by Williams with 22. Thatch hit 18 for Parma.

Raiders win opener

POPLAR BLUFF--- Sophomores Mike Edwards and Dave Beckering teamed for 42 points, scoring 24 and 18 respectively, in leading the Three Rivers Community College Raiders to a 100- 85 opening season victory over Southern Baptist College of Walnut Ridge, Ark., Saturday night.

The victory, TRCC's 15th straight in the seven year history of the school, was questionable through most of the first half as the Arkansasans battled the taller, talented host with lightning speed and fast breaks while holding the advantage most of the time.

Coach Gene Bess' Raiders stormed from their 48- 44 halftime advantage into a quick 20 point advantage early in the second half, using their familiar pressing tactics sharp shooting to put the game away.

Both teams committed a bucket full of mistakes, typical of opening games.

Freshmen, Fred Rowe of Morley and Alvin Pierce of Charleston added to the Raiders offense with 14 and 12 points respectively.

TRCC plays host to Meramec Nov. 29 in a MJCAC league opener.

HAYTI — Coach Jerry Cecil's HHS Indians won their final game of the season by defeating the Portageville Bulldogs 14-0 in South Conference action Friday night.

The first quarter remained scoreless and then in the second quarter Hayti mounted a 25 yard drive that set-up a three yard touchdown run by Danny White. Mark Cartee kicked the extra point making the score 14-0 at the half.

There was very little action in the third quarter and the fourth quarter was marked by a 70 yard drive that resulted in a one yard touchdown plunge, again by White. Cartee again kicked the extra point making the final score 14-0.

Hayti ended the season with a 6-3 record, the leading scorer for the Indians is Jim Morgan with 40 points for the season followed by Danny White with 32. The Indians ended the season with 150 total offensive points while their defense allowed 93.

Portageville's season mark was 5-5, they scored 138 total offensive while their defense allowed 123. Their leading scorer was Robert Daily with 42 points followed by Billy Gibson with 41.

In the South Conference, Hayti is 4-2 and Portageville is 4-2.

Hornets sting OHS

ORAN-- The Advance Hornets looked like a determined basketball team here Friday night as Coach Carroll Cookson's team whipped the Eagles of coach Joe Scott, 79- 64.

Advance was surprised last week by the upstart Scott Central Braves and coach Cookson was not about to have any more like that one so the Eagles had to bear the brunt of their wrath.

Just when it looked as if the Hornets were too young to sting anyone this season the offense began to jell and the Hornets had their five starters hit in double figures in the game.

The Hornets came out running in the first period and built up a 24- 11 lead and looked as if they were going to have a real laugher but Oran took the ball away a few times early in the second period and before the Hornets could relax the game was becoming dangerously close. Advance was outscored 19- 18 and held a 42- 30 halftime lead.

Advance held a 10 point lead for the most part through the second half.

DIAL DOWN TO NO MORE THAN 68° DURING THE DAY.
IF WE ALL SET OUR THERMOSTATS A LITTLE LOWER, WE CAN EASE THE HEATING FUEL SHORTAGE.
Our country is going to be short of heating fuel this winter. All kinds of heating fuels — oil, gas, electric. It's part of the national energy crisis the President talked about on TV.
How bad the shortage will be depends on two things: the severity of the weather, and what we all do to conserve the fuel supply.
We can't do anything about the weather, but there's a lot we can do to conserve. The easiest thing is to dial down the thermostat so the heating system doesn't use as much fuel.
Keep the thermostat set at no more than 68° during the day, and lower it even more overnight when the family is snug in bed.
Just doing this will save important amounts of fuel, no matter what kind of fuel you burn. If we all do it, enough fuel will be saved to ease the shortage.
WHAT HAPPENS IF WE DON'T CONSERVE?
If we don't conserve, the shortage will begin to affect all of us personally and importantly. As the fuel supply gets short, schools will have to close. Businesses will close, too.
Electric utilities that use heating oil to generate electric power will be forced into brownouts. In short, our entire economy could be affected.
Conversely, if we all conserve a little, there won't be as much of a shortage, and we won't feel it as badly.
THE GASOLINE YOU DIDN'T USE LAST SUMMER BEAT THAT SHORTAGE
Last summer, the country was headed for a gasoline shortage. And people conserved gasoline to help ease it. For example, in the month of July, official records show that automobile traffic on interstate highways and attendance at national parks was down substantially over the same month the preceding year.
The result was that very few communities suffered severe run-outs. In fact, most people felt nothing more than a minor inconvenience.
WHAT STANDARD IS DOING TO EASE THE SHORTAGE
This ad is part of a total communications program on our part to help conserve heating fuel. We're telling all Standard employees to dial down, both at work and at home. We're urging other businesses to dial down, too. And we're asking you to do the same. It's a job for all of us because it's important to all of us.
We are trying to make enough heating oil to supply our customers' needs this winter. But we can only get so much crude oil, and it may not be enough to keep our refineries going at top production.
We are spending 88 million dollars so our Texas City refinery can handle high sulfur foreign crude oil.
We have allocated our inventories of heating oil as fairly as we know how, and we are participating in the government's allocation program.
Further, we stand ready to implement special emergency plans in areas where the heating fuel shortage hits the hardest.
NOW IS THE TIME TO START CONSERVING
The heating fuel you conserve in the early part of the year will make that much more available when the really cold weather hits.
So dial down today. And tonight. And check your home for other ways to conserve. For a free booklet on what to do, contact your Standard heating fuel man, or write: Heating Fuel Conservation, Standard Oil, MC 1506, P.O. Box 6110A, Chicago, Illinois 60680.

Indians claim MIAA championship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southeast Missouri State got all the help it needed from quarterback Lance Brune and from Southwest Missouri Saturday to wrap up the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association football championship.

Southeast, with Brune passing for four touchdowns, rocked Central Missouri, 27-0, to finish with a 5-1 MIAA record. That assured the Indians of at least a tie for the title, since Lincoln was 3-1 in the league with two more games to play beginning the day.

But Southwest, which only one week earlier had shocked defending MIAA champ Northwest, ended the race by running down Lincoln, 17-0. It was only the third victory in 10 starts for the Bears, but their 3-3 conference mark assures them of no worse than fourth in the standings.

In the only other MIAA action Saturday, Northeast and Rolla settled for a 7-7 tie when a 37-yard Northeast field goal attempt sailed awry with 10 seconds left.

Rolla now is 1-3-1 going into a Thanksgiving Day trip to Jefferson City, when Lincoln puts a 3-2 MIAA mark on the line. Northwest is now alone in second place at 4-2, while Northeast finishes 2-3-1 and Central last at 1-5.

In independent action Saturday, Missouri Southern saw its fall from last year's perfect campaign completed with a 1614 loss to Arkansas Tech. That gave the Lions a losing 4-6 mark for the season to go with 1972's 11-0 reading.

Washington University climbed to 5-2-1 by battering Washington and Lee, 21-8, and Missouri Western added some glitter to a 4-5-1 windup by upsetting Doane College, 20-16, at Crete, Neb.

After a scoreless first half, the Indians turned two turnovers into touchdowns in a twominute span at the outset of the third quarter.

Telephone line cut; wiring stolen

LUTESVILLE — A telephone line was cut down about 11:30 p.m. Sunday eight miles south of Lutesville and an undetermined amount of wiring was stolen, according to the highway patrol, which was notified about midnight by an employe of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The longest poem ever written was the "Mahabaharata" which appeared in India around 400 B.C. It runs to 220,000 lines.

Senate emergency energy legislation nearing passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate smarting from charges of inaction is nearing expected passage of emergency legislation that would give President Nixon most of the powers he says he needs to meet the energy crisis.

But the bill, which was scheduled for a final vote late this afternoon, could not become law until some time next week at the earliest, since it also must pass the House which does not return from Thanksgiving recess until Nov. 26.

In his Saturday news conference, President Nixon said Congress had not acted on energy proposals he had made as long as two years ago. Nixon said Congress had sent him only one of his seven pieces of priority energy legislation, the Alaska pipeline bill.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., reacted to the President's statement by saying flatly, "He is wrong." Appearing Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," Mansfield accused the President of being long on rhetoric and proposals but short on specific legislative programs.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., appearing on CBS' "Face the Nation," said Nixon's statement was "very hard to understand." Proxmire said "the President simply hasn't grasped" the severity of the situation, which according to a Library of Congress study could result in fuel shortages of up to 35 per cent.

David Rockefeller, head of the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York, predicted that the crisis could lead to a zero growth rate for the nation next year and a 6 per cent drop in industrial production. Rockefeller, interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers," said the economists' best estimates is that the fuel shortages will result in a cut of $3 million a day in the economy's growth.

Mansfield and Proxmire also differed with the President on the need for gasoline rationing. Nixon said in his televised press conference he hoped to avoid rationing.

According to Mansfield, Nixon's reluctance to impose rationing is "just paving the way to a recession next year." Proxmire said, "I think gasoline rationing is essential, we have to have it no matter what happens, no matter how much relief we might even get from the end of the Arab boycott."

The measure before the Senate today would give the President the authority, but not require him, to order rationing of gasoline or any other scarce fuel.

The bill by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., also would authorize such energy-saving steps as lowered thermostats, reduced speed limits and shorter school days.

other items to consider—reducing the speed limit to 60 miles per hour, expanding the merit system and tightening the campaign spending laws.

The biggest headache of those is expected to be the merit system. It was debated for several days in the Senate and finally included in the reorganization bill to cover the Revenue Department. Bond wants to expand it to other areas. About half of the state's 55,000 exmployes are in the merit system.

Volkmer and Rep. Richard DeCoster, D-Canton, assistant House speaker, said they favored a special session solely on reorganization.

Sen. Jack Gant, D-Independence, said he thought most legislators didn't want a special session at all but were willing to take the time to work on reorganization, which was called for in a constitutional amendment approved in 1972.

The special session which can last 60 days, may overlap with the regular session starting Jan. 9.

DeCoster said the session could have been called several months ago, and he resented it being called when legislators are getting ready for the regular session—bills will be prefiled Dec. 3—and preparing for the holidays.

In addition, the House chamber is undergoing renovation and may not be finished in time, DeCoster said. The House leadership decided to repair the chambers when it appeared Bond would not call a special session.

"Calling a special session now would be about like going coon hunting in the daytime," said Sen. William J. Cason, D-Clinton, Bond's principal foe on reorganization.

Nixon wants Watergate behind him

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon's 1973 campaign to put Watergate behind him once and forever has begun in earnest with the embattled President embracing the role of underdog.

After holding an unorthodox live television-radio news conference Saturday in which he felt compelled to assure his fellow citizens that "I am not a crook," Nixon made a flying trip to politically friendly Georgia Sunday that had all the earmarks of a quest for votes.

Resorting to the sort of regional appeal beloved by politicians, Nixon paid tribute to the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League as "the comeback team of 1973" because it won five straight games after opening the season with one win and three losses. Perhaps, he mused to a Macon audience, he should talk to Falcon coach Norm Van Brocklin "and find out how they did it."

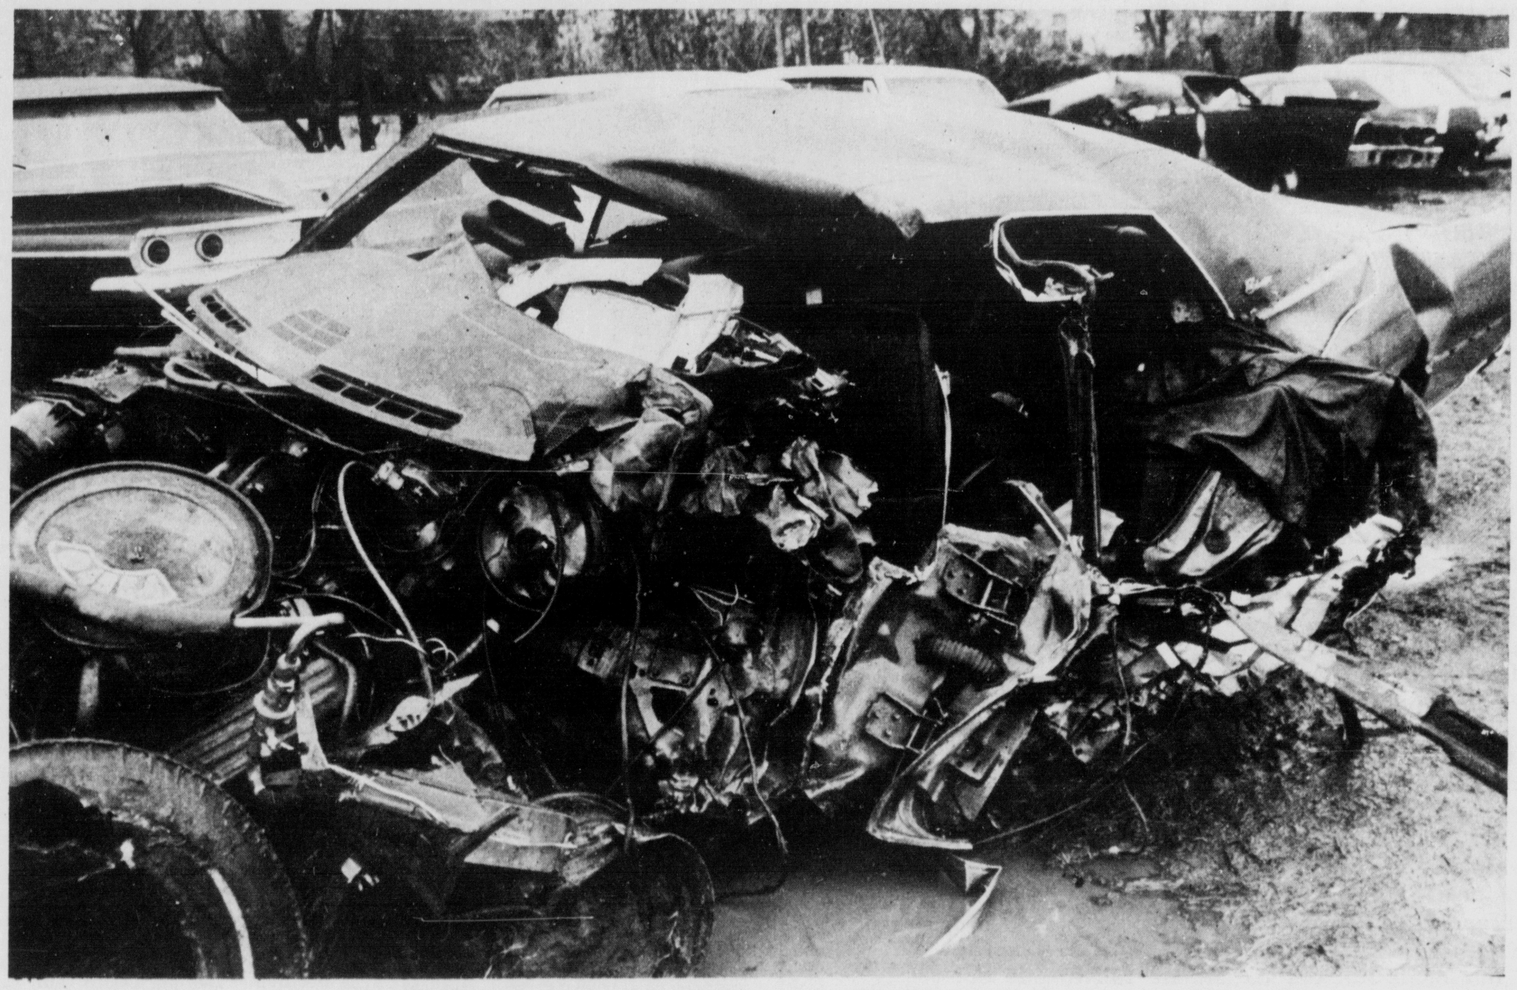
Although the Macon stop produced a sometimes-noisy demonstration by several hundred young people who chanted for resignation or impeachment, the large crowds of Georgians who turned out were generally friendly, if far less enthusiastic than most campaign gatherings.

After a week of private huddles in Washington with congressional Republicans and selected southern Democrats, Nixon has gone public with a Watergate counterattack that is expected to produce more public appearances, sessions with the news media and presidential statements.

Nixon's decision to go marching through Georgia, officially to honor the 90th birthday of retired Democratic Rep. Carl Vinson and the 100th anniversary of the Mercer University Law School, was made within recent days.

In similar fashion, the President gave little advance notice of his Saturday TV-radio appearance at the Disney World, Fla., convention of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

Both stops, plus a Tuesday stopover at a Republican governors conference in Memphis en route back to Washington, were fitted quickly into the blueprint for Nixon's most ambitious effort yet to dispel the Watergate cloud that has enveloped him.



Three die in accident

Three persons were killed, including a 4- year - old boy, and five other persons were injured in an accident at 4:10 a.m. Sunday on Highway 60 one mile east of Charleston when this car, driven by Mack Field, 30, of Chicago, came around a curve on the wrong side of the road and collided with a tractor- trailer truck driven by Charles Hames, 39, of Walls, Miss. Bond considering a special session

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Several legislators were predicting today that Gov. Christopher S. Bond would call a special session, but the word from the governor's office was that no decision had been reached.

Bond, who will return from the National Republican Governors' Conference Tuesday, has said he was seriously considering calling a special session and would announce Wednesday whether he would or not.

Some legislators have been urging since last summer that a special session be held to work out oreorganization of the executive branch.

Bond's staff has drafted a bill similar to a House version favored by Bond last June. He vetoed the compromise bill, more like the Senate version, saying it didn't give enough authority to department directors.

Another bill is being drafted by the Senate and this also will be considered when the special session begins.

Rep. Joe Holt, D-Fulton, chairman of the House Reorganization Committee, said Bond discussed the possibility of a special session with him and Reps. Robert Snyder, R-Kirkwood, and Harold Volkmer, D-Hannibal. Snyder is the House minority leader and Volkmer sponsored the House oreganization bill last session.

Holt said he thought the session would be called the first week of December.

Reports were going around that Bond also would give the legislators three

Light poles added

Sikeston Light and Water Co. crews are installing additional street lights which will extend the lighting on North Main to the north city limits. The lights conform to Missouri State Highway Department regulations, which require "break-away" lighting standards. Cost of the project involving 15 new standards is $7,273.63.

Dogs released at city pound

Someone opened the pen at the city dog pound Sunday afternoon and released 15 dogs, according to humane officer Bob Beardsley.

The dogs were released between 1 and 3 p.m. Five of the dogs returned to the pound after he arrived, Beardsley said.

In head-on collision

Three die near Charleston

Two out - of - state men and a 4 - year - old boy were killed and 10 persons were injured in five area traffic accidents during the weekend, the highway patrol reported today.

The three fatalities occurred in a head-on collision at 4:10 a.m. Sunday one mile east of Charleston on Highway 60 which also injured six persons.

The accident occurred when an eastbound car driven by Mack Field, 30, of Chicago came around a curve on the wrong side of the road and struck a westbound tractor- trailer truck driven by Charles Hames, 39, of Walls, Miss.

Field and passengers Albert Ray Yarbrought, 47, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Stephen Westbrook, 4, of Marianna, Ark., were killed in the crash.

Injured were car passengers Al Yarbrought, 25, of Milwaukee, serious condition; Florence Mitchell, 32, of Chicago, critical; Carolyn Westbrook, 8, of Marianna, serious; and Alice Westbrook, 26, and Minnie Westbrook, 6, of Marianna, Ark., minor injuries; and Hames, minor injuries. All were taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

An accident at 11:15 a.m. Saturday at the interchange of Interstate 55 and Highway 51 at Perryville resulted in minor injuries to Manuel Finchum, 35, of Jackson.

The patrol reported that a southbound car driven by Virginia Finchum, 35, of Jackson attempted to make a left turn in front of a northbound car driven by Thomas Tucker, 32, of Perryville and the cars sideswiped each other.

Finchum was taken to a doctor's office in Perryville.

Jimmy Lee Sloan, 24, of Sikeston received minor injuries at 10:30 p.m. Saturday when his tractor-trailer truck ran off a gravel road five miles north of Sikeston and overturned.

Sloan was treated at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston and released.

Winfred Eugene Delmar, 72, of Fredericktown was slightly injured at 5:15 p.m. Sunday when his car ran off a gravel road two miles north of Roselle in Iron County and struck a tree.

Delmar was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Ironton.

A Kansas woman was injured at 9:40 p.m. Sunday in an accident on Highway 21 one mile south of Arcadia.

The patrol said the accident occurred when a southbound car driven by Cheryl Devona Boatright, 21, of Ironton, made a left turn and was struck by a southbound car driven by Ronald J. Darr, 31, of Hutchison, Kan.

Peggy Darr of Hutchison, received minor injuries and was taken to St. Mary's Hospital.

High court rejects state abortion law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today rejected Missouri's search for a loophole in the high court's decision granting women the right to abortions during the first six months of pregnancy.

The court affirmed a three-judge district court's decision declaring Missouri abortion law unconstitutional.

The lower court based its decision on the Supreme Court ruling last January that allowed states to place substantial restrictions on abortion only during last three months of pregnancy.

Missouri Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth argued, however, that the decision did not strike down state laws which prohibited all abortions except those necessary to save the liefe of the mother or child.

Drugs, money taken Sunday

CHAFFEE — Tee's Prescription Store was broken into Sunday night or early today and $30 and an undetermined amount of drugs were taken, according to Chaffee police, who discovered the burglary on a routine check.

A glass window on the back door was broken to get into the building, located at 108 W. Yoakum St.

Risco man killed by a tractor

RISCO — Herbert E. Joiner, 68, of Risco was fatally injured at 4 p.m. Saturday in a tractor accident on his farm three miles southwest of Risco.

The highway patrol said Joiner apparently started the tractor from the ground while the tractor was in gear and was run over by the tractor and a loaded cotton trailer.

Joiner was taken to Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti where he died at 5:20 p.m.

He was born May 15, 1905 in Campbell.

Thieves get fishing gear and sandwich

Police said today that fishing equipment was taken from a car belonging to police officer Gary Brown while the car was parked at Reynolds Garage on South Main Street.

The car was damaged Nov. 4 when Brown tried to stop three men burglarizing McConnell's Magnavox Home Entertainment Center at Kingsway Plaza Mall when the burglars fled in a car which struck Brown's auto.

The fishing equipment, owned by officer John Blankenbeker, was in the trunk of the car.

It was discovered missing soon after the accident, but was just reported this weekend. The equipment consisted of two reels, two rods and about $65 worth of tackle.

A burglar ransacked Trinity Baptist Church, Highway 61 North, Sunday afternoon, but got nothing but a peanut butter sandwich that he made himself.

Police said someone entered the church between noon and 3 p.m. by breaking out a window.

Police said desk drawers had been tampered with and a coin box was removed from a soft drink machine, but apparently nothing was taken.

The thief made a peanut butter sandwich in the kitchen and helped himself to a soft drink before leaving the building.

A spare tire was taken from a car belonging to Ed Williams, 213 Ruth St., sometime between 2 p.m. Friday and 11 a.m. Saturday, according to police.

The tire was taken from the trunk of the car while it was parked in the parking lot at Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

Rutledge seeks more UFO data

ST. LOUIS (AP) — More data will be needed before any explanation can be given for the sightings of strange objects in the skies over southeast Missouri, according to a university physics professor.

Dr. Harvey D. Rutledge, chairman of the physics department at Southeast Missouri State University at Cape Girardeau, presented the results of a study he made of the sightings to the Missouri section of the American Association of Physics Teachers meeting here Saturday.

"I don't want to refer to them as UFO's or flying saucers. They were unusual lights. I don't want to speculate beyond that without additional data," Rutledge said.

He and a volunteer group of physics students and astronomers conducted field observations for 78 nights in and near the cities of Piedmont, Farmington, Fredericktown, Cape Girardeau and Sikeston.

During 38 of the observations, which covered the period from April 6 to Nov. 10, "unusual lights" were observed and photographed, Rutledge told the group of interested physicists.

The lights, colored orange and green, darted at varying speeds and sometimes moved rapidly across the sky. At other times they blinked on and off, said Rutledge, who has been at SEMO State since 1963.

He presented about 20 slides, most of them time exposures of six to 10 seconds, showing streaks of light in the darkened sky. One photograph showed a wiggly streak, which when enlarged, revealed coil-like spirals originating from the streak.

He said nothing "solid" could be found in the sky by radar on the nights the lights were observed. He added that on two occasions he saw lights being followed by jet aircraft.

During a question and answer period, one physicist asked Rutledge if he thought the lights could have been caused by microwaves similar to those which transmit television pictures over long distances.

Rutledge acknowledged the possibility, but said scientific instruments were not available during his study to investigate that angle.

He said he hoped for additional funding to proceed with further studies using more sophisticated equipment.

Rutledge began his investigation after a high school basketball coach and five of his players reported watching wideeyed an unidentified flying object Feb. 21. Since that time there have been numerous reports of such sightings in southeast Missouri and southern Illinois.

THANKSGIVING AND REPENTANCE

It is a mark of a nation's greatness that it remembers its deliverances, giving God thanks for them, and Thanksgiving Day is well marked as one of the most important days in the nation's calendar, celebrating as it does the survival over the first year of American pioneer families. The first winter had been hard and long; but the harvest had now been gathered in and they faced another winter of bitter weather in circumstances which gave them confidence for their future lives in this great land. Americans have never forgotten to say "thank You," taking example from the Hebrew people who every year at Passover remember how God saved them from bondage in Egypt and brought them out to cross the Red Sea and occupy the Promised Land.

There was a later occasion, however, when they were not so sure of survival. Their land was besieged "because of their wrongdoing," the prophets said, and with dwindling supplies of food they faced possible starvation. "The harvest is past," cried Jeremiah (8:20), "the summer is ended, and we are not saved." How could they possibly reap when the enemy stood in the fields? How could they possibly reap when they had been unable to sow!

Thanksgiving Day should give us cause for gratitude that our barns and our coffers are full despite our wickedness. Reading in our newspapers of war and crime and infidelity, the growing fear of being out in the city streets at night, we can say, "He hath not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our iniquities."

Offsetting the defiance of God and cruelty to man which is among us, there is, however, a large body of Christian people in our land who, like the remnant of Israel, are the salvation of the nation. This is why Key 73, to be launched on January 6-7 next year, is so significant. Churchmen of all demoniations will be united in an all-out call to all men to forsake their sins and to follow Christ. Stage 1 in this evangelistic endeavor has the theme "Calling Our Continent to Repentance," and Salvation Army soldiers in all its centers will be making their own acts of penitence and thanksgiving before the year begins, so that with a Day of Commitment at the beginning of the year Salvationists will be ready to call others to the same consecration.

Repentance at Thanksgiving might begin with the fact that, while we are gorging ourselves, about 10,000 in this world will have died of hunger. Yet our repentance must go deeper. Our selfishness is rooted in our spiritual life. What we exhibit on a material plane we harbor in the secret places of our hearts. "Lord, save us from our selfishness" should read "Lord save us from our sins," for the two are synonymous.

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is time's best friend.

Steadfastly it stands by you for a lifetime, helping to alleviate the wounds of the past, helping to reconcile you to the wounds of today.

It does not desert you under pressure. It will not betray you to your foes. It is true to you as your own breath. Without memory neither you nor all your yesterdays would have any meaning.

But you've got enough memories for life to mean a lot to you if you can look back and remember when —

Only the secretary of the top boss in the office had an electric typewriter. It was her biggest sign of prestige.

Men's neckties were too thin to hide a ketchup spot on their shirtfront.

When they took up the Sunday collection in a rural church, the only sound heard was the clinking of coins never the rustle of folding money.

In the average home there was more dust on the dictionary than the family Bible.

When a city girl visited her country cousins they thought she was stuck up because she used dental floss instead of toothpicks.

One of the ordeals of childhood in winter was to have to take a shivery bath in a washtub on the kitchen floor every Saturday night — whether you felt like you needed a bath or not.

There were still more people in America who knew how to hitch up a orse and buggy than could drive an automobile.

It was cheaper to take a little girl to a public park because all she wanted was a gas-filled bright balloon. Little boys, on the other hand, insisted on having a skull cap with a propeller on it that whirled when they ran.

The farmer could complain with some justice that the government did something for everybody but him.

An ice cream cone cost a nickel — and was worth it. Ice cream itself came only in three flavors — chocolate, strawberry and vanilla.

You could look at a teen-ager and tell at first glance what sex it was.

Those were the days — remember?

THE HIGH COST OF PROTECTING THE PRESIDENT

James J. Rowley, director of the Secret Service, testified before a congressional committee in Washington on Oct. 10 that personnel costs to safeguard President Richard M. Nixon's private residences at Key Biscayne, Fla., and San Clemente, Calif., added as much as $500,000 a year to the $10,000,000 in federal funds already disclosed as having been spent on the two homes.

Mr. Rowley did tell the committee the figure might be a bit high, but evidently it has to be somewhere in that area or he would not have mentioned half a million dollars. He said that the personal desires of the President or his representatives played a role in spending for security and might have added to the government's cost.

One of the items brought out in the investigation was that of a fence at Key Biscayne. The original fence did not suit Mr. Nixon's old buddy, Charles B. Rebozo, and the plans were changed. Total cost of the fence finally came to $60,000. It was a fence that resembled that around the White House.

There are so many things that it seems the Nixon family has to have to make things right for them. The only trouble is that for everything the family asks there is always an added charge. The fence is a right good example.

SURE ENOUGH, ILL WINDS BLOW GOOD

Good old American enterprise is being tested but has not yet been found wanting in the current energy crisis. Or to put it another way, in adversity, there is always opportunity, public relations-wise.

For example, the Highway Users Federation, which is not dedicated to the disuse of the nation's streets and highways, reports that according to a study it conducted, buses and cars carrying two or more persons provide the most economic means of commuting

When all economic costs were considered, including the capital costs for purchases of the vehicles, parking costs and all costs related to construction, maintenance and operation of highways and facilities for bus and rail transit, rail transit trips were found to be the most expensive of all means of commuting (except for an automobile carrying only a driver).

Thus the best answer to the problem of traffic congestion, as well as the gasoline pinch, may be to "pool it."

Another organization, the Recreational Vehicle Institute, has also put out a release.

Disturbed at reports that many people are reluctant to plan summer vacations and weekend trips out of concern for the energy shortage, or are delaying purchase of recreational vehicles for the same reason, it claims that a family on vacation with a recreational vehicle uses less than one-fourth the amount of energy consumed at home.

"A family of four living in an average- sized home normally uses around four times more electricity and natural gas than the same family on vacation," says the Institute's president Robert L. Stewart.

And as far as gasoline is concerned, he points out that with 1973 pollution control equipment, there is little different between a 1973 sedan and a medium motor home or a car towing an average- sized travel trailer.

Where this leaves the person with a large - sized motor home or both a 1973 sedan AND a trailer is not quite clear.

Maybe we had better think about pooling our vacations, too.

To fight the drug traffic in their city, the Downtown Ontario (Calif.) Merchants Assn. formed WE TIP (We Turn In Pushers). Anyone can phone in a tip, remain anonymous, and collect a reward (up to $500) if the pusher is apprehended. The caller receives a code number and is paid in cash so no one (not even the police) knows the identity of the informant.

It is working. Within 4½ months over 600 tips have been received with numerous arrests made. Addicts have been known to turn in their own sources to help support their habit. Pushers no longer know whom they can trust. This plan can be used in any community. For information write to Bill Brownell, WE TIP, P. O. Box 524, Ontario, Calif. 91761.

MORE CHALLENGES ON PRONO IN VIEW

Every society with a complexity beyond the primitive hunting level has had to deal with either or both, and history records varying degrees of success or lack of it. Approaches have run the gamut from complete acceptance to mere toleration to outright suppression. That both problems are still with us says much about human nature.

Now once again, after 15 years. the United States Supreme Court has laid down rules to govern, or attempt to govern, pornography.

We seemed, by virtue of previous decisions of the court, to have been moving toward some sort of grudging accomodation with a phenomenon that simply will not go away. According to some critics, this latest attempt to formulate guidelines represents a step backward (depending upon how one defines retrogression or progress in this matter).

Certain it is that the court's decision will not be the last word on pornography. The fact that it was such a close decision — five justices to four — virtually guarantees this.

By returning to local communities the rights to handle the problem as they see fit, the court may only have prepared the way for another series of legal challenges such as we witnessed during the days of the "Warren Court."

In writing the majority opinion, Chief Justice Burger stated that "to equate the free and robust exchange of ideas and political debate with commercial exploitation of obscene material demeans the grand conception of the First Amendment and its high purpose in the historic struggle for freedom."

But it has also been demeaning to the high court, not to mention innumerable lower courts, that over the years they have had to devote so much of their valuable time to poring over material of more or less shoddiness to determine if the rest of the population may see or read it, or to find in it some shred of "redeeming social value" (another Warren Court dictum that has now gone by the boards).

It will be no less demeaning to state legislatures that they will now be empowered to spell out in explicit language the kinds of sexual expression which may be prohibited according to guidelines by Chief Justice Burger, guidelines which themselves make for rather spicy reading.

Whatever one's personal attitude toward pornography may be, it is almost ridiculous that so much time, so much energy and so much judicial thought has been and no doubt will continue to be expanded on a matter that is really one of the lesser prôblems facing American society.

While "everyone knows pornography when he sees it," a long list of books, films and other works now accepted but once suppressed is proof that a lot of people see it where others don't. This isn't going to change.

IN SILENT REBUKE

Newsweek magazine has devoted a special section to what it called "The Energy Crisis". It explains in great detail many aspects of the growing energy shortage. Most of them have been discussed and debated for months and years. The crisis, as Newsweek calls it, is largely the work of misguided public policies, environmental extremism and the antitechnology crusaders who have managed to sell the idea that somehow civilization can retreat from the Twentieth Century to the days of candlelight and wood fires and be better off.

The Newsweek feature leads off with a single poignant picture that forcefully brings home what a literal return to the "old days" would signify. The picture shows an empty Denver school room with one person, presumably a teacher, bundled up in an overcoat sitting alone reading a book. A fuel shortage had closed the school. Thirty to 40 empty school desks stand in silent rebuke to a nation and a people who have permitted zealotry, plain ignorance and political tomfoolery in the field of energy to literally bring human learning and progress to a halt. The picture is a powerful condemnation of the kinds of fads, cults and crusades that have been carried to such an extreme that they threaten the security of the nation.

WRIGHT'S DESERT HOME WINS 25- YEAR AWARD

Taliesin West, built as a desert camp in Arizona in 1938 by Frank Lloyd Wright, his associates and students has been given the American Institute of Architects' 25- Year Award.

This honor is given in recognition of architectural design of enduring significance to structures at least 25 years old.

First conceived as a short period residence, Mr. Wright and his associates came to use it for longer periods each year. The complex of structures was expanded and some of its original components were replaced with more permanent materials, all adhering to Mr. Wright's master plan for development.

Pietro Belluschi, FAIA chairman said, "The years have not diminished the elemental quality of Taliesin West. More than other works by this master, it shows how to grasp the mood of the land and transform it into a place of harmony and beauty. Here one understands the magic of man's primeval relationship to nature."

The Institutes' 25- Year Award was presented in 1969 to Rockefeller Center in New York City; in 1971 to Crow Island School in Winnetka, Ill., and in 1972 to the Los Angeles residential development of Baldwin Hills Village.

QUICK AND SIMPLE

A very wise advertising man said good newspaper advertising headlines are those that make the quickest, simplest and most believable impression on the reader. He listed the following rules for good advertising headlines:

1. There must be appeal to the right audience.
2. The headlines must be easy to understand and be direct.
3. The headlines must be brief and have a quick message.
4. The headlines must be believeable and self- proving.
5. There must be appeal to readers.
6. The headlines must have self- interest to draw the attention of the reader.

Other good elements for headlines, he said, include next, timeliness, testimonials, sex appeal, free, curiosity, and price.

TAIWAN'S "SECRET"

Free China on Taiwan, abandoned by her erstwhile friends in the free world, scorned in the news media and still the object of relentless hostility from all the communist powers, continues to survive and grow. The reason lies in one concept, the same concept which explains our own nation's rise to world power: the personal enterprise, profit- motive system.

Per capita income on Taiwan has doubled in the last six years and is expected to double again in the next four. According to the economic counselor of the U. S. Embassy in Taipei, "Taiwan is having the highest rate of growth in foreign trade of any significant trading nation in the world." With only 15 million people, Taiwan matches the full value of foreign trade of the communist colossus on the mainland with 750 million people. In other words, per capita each Taiwanese in freedom is producing as much in world trade as 50 mainland Chinese in slavery.

In just 10 years from now, Taiwan is expected to stand sixth in the entire world in volume of world trade. No wonder that even the left- side magazine Nation in the Philippines recently reported that "all over Taiwan the air is alive with the electric spark of creation."

The often- criticized government of Chian Kai- shek has had the rare wisdom to allow the personal enterprise profit- motive system to function and to bear its fruits with only a minimum of restraint. By doing so, the world has had another lesson in how this great engine of production and prosperity works. Still, ideological blinders are keeping many from seeing and learning from that lesson. HLH

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:

Nixon Wastes Fuel

WASHINGTON-- To save critical fuels, President Nixon has called upon his fellow Americans to turn down their thermostats. "That means in this room, too," he said solemnly.

He also cut back the allocations of jet fuel for aircrafts and asked governors to reduce highway speeds to 50 miles per hour. Afterwards, he showed up late for a dinner honoring his wife Pat and cracked: "I'm sorry I'm late. I could drive only 50 miles an hour."

The truth is that the President and his aides haven't been practicing the austerity they have been preaching. He drafted his public appeal in balmy Key Biscayne, Fla., where the warm sun kept the temperatures comfortable. His luxury jet burned 8,000 gallons of fuel to make the round trip.

The following weekend, he helicoptered to his Camp David retreat, which is only about an hour from the White House at 50 miles per hour. The round trip took an estimated 140 gallons of fuel.

DOG MUST SHARE

He has made one concessions to the fuel pinch, according to our White House sources. His Irish Setter, King Timahoe, who is a difficult helicopter passenger, used to follow the President to Camp David in solitary splendor in the back seat of a chauffeur-driven limousine. Now the dog must share his limousine with low- ranking White House aides.

For a man who has devoted a lifetime to striving to reach the White House, Richard Nixon spends less time there than any past president. But a spokesman told us the President has no plans to curtail his travel.

The men around the President have also displayed little spirit of sacrifice. Energy czar John Love, who wants his fellow citizens to drive slower and drive less, is whisked around Washington in a Chrysler New Yorker from the White House motor pool. His chauffeur pickes him up at his home in the mornings and deposits him at his doorstep at night.

Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton declared on national television that "energy has been too cheap" in the United States. Gasoline is $1.35 a gallon in Italy, he remarked, in an obvious hint that American motorists should be paying more for their gas.

HIS GAS PAID FOR

The taxpayers, of course, pay for Morton's gasoline. As a concession, he has given up his White House Chrysler and now gets around in a government-owned Plymouth-- chauffeur-driven, of course.

When he flies, the six- foot-seven- inch Morton goes first class, courtesy of the taxpayers-- because he is too big, he complains, "to fit into a coach seat." He also makes use of Interior Department airplanes, but only said a spokesman, "when his schedule is screwed up."

The Pentagon has also made a big show of reducing temperatures and cutting back fuel consumption. But this hasn't cramped the lifestyle of the military brass. The Pentagon still operates its sleek fleet of chauffeur- driven cars to ferry around the brass and their bigwig friends.

The demand for VIP limousine service is so great, in fact, that the Pentagon is forced to rent cars to supplement its motor pool

JUNKETS

Nor has the military curtailed its personalized worldwide flight service for junketing congressmen and other assorted VIPs. Three days after the President's TV appeal to save fuel, the Army ferried a planeload of congressmen and military officers to West Point for the Army- Miami University football game.

Throughout the government, indeed, the bureaucrats are burning more gas than ever. Government automobiles burned 34 million more gallons of gasoline in 1973 than in 1972. And despite the oil squeeze, the projected increase for 1974 is an additional 30 million- gallon increase.

Down the line, the bureaucrats apparently take their example from the President who has his own fleet of five jetliners, 15 helicopters, 11 Jetstars, 23 limousines and a yacht.

Technically, the aircraft are owned by the military which has asked Congress for money to buy 17 new choppers to replace those now in use. Two more jumbo communications planes are also being outfitted and the White House is shopping for four more medium- range jets.

TEST FLIGHTS

When the President isn't using his personal air force, the planes are routinely taken aloft for test flights so they will also be in top condition when he calls. Usually, a back- up plane and a press plane accompany the President on all major flights, carrying everything from the hot line phone to the First Lady's hairdresser.

These Boeing 707 jetliners each consume about 2,000 gallons of fuel per hour. A round- trip to San Clemente, in other words, used up 20,000 gallons. If all three presidential planes make the flight, as they normally do, the fuel consumption adds up to a staggering 60,000 gallons every time the President decides to spend a few days at San Clemente.

Meanwhile, Nixon has lowered the temperature at the White House where his staff works while he is at San Clemente or Key Biscayne.

Oil Boycott Beneficial?

White House Brain Truster Sees Hysteria But No National Energy Crisis

And, since this White House adviser is Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz, it's worth reporting that he is attempting to cool the heated gloom- and- doom predictions of national disaster. These include one industrialist's announcement that our entire way of life and the American system itself soon will collapse because of the Arab oil boycott.

And the fantastically erudite world- traveled Shultz says: "Some 85 per cent of our energy is produced in the U. S. and nobody can boycott us out of that 85 per cent. Further, the boycott may be a blessing in disguise. Now we must do what we need to do. Let's not be dependent on them (the Arab sheiks, kings, emirs and sultans--- VR)."

Shultz adds that this nation is in a boom. We must reduce our fuel demand 15 per cent, or find the 15 per cent by cutting unessential use without hurting the economy-- give industry what it needs to maintain employment levels even if it means keeping homes cooler and slowing the speed of pleasure- bound cars.

Backing this upbeat thrust is a General Accounting Office report developed by the GAO's foreign staffs operating mostly in Frankfurt, Germany, and London.

This virtually unreported document reveals the U. S. imports about 29 per cent of our oil, and only 9 per cent of this is from the Middle East, and not all of it has been slashed.

Why then the hysteria? Some of it is justified since joblessness is beginning-- repeat, beginning-- to develop across the land. Some of the hysteria is simply alarmist. Such as the Women's Christian Temperance Union's demand for the slowing of whiskey-making.

And the rather startling, seemingly overheated prediction by Robert Anderson, chairman of Atlantic- Richfield Co., who announced that some 7 million to 8 million Americans will be jobless in four months if the Arab boycott continues and there is no American accommodation with the Arabs.

Shultz appears to be supported by White House domestic affairs chief Mel Laird who told some of us at lunch the other day that we can recoup some 15 per cent of our missing energy needs by upping Texas production, by using some Naval Petroleum Reserves, and some new tax techniques, just for starters.

Why then is serious trouble developing on the industrial front? In Buffalo, N. Y., the other night I learned of one big oil- less plant awaiting midnight word from its Canadian fuel suppliers on whether they would ship in enough oil to enable the plant to open.

From Chicago word came to the AFL- CIO headquarters that there was a crippling shortage of propane gas on some construction work.

National AFL- CIO construction trades department leaders report job layoffs in Ohio because there isn't enough fuel to run the big cranes and other construction machinery. T. W. A. laid off 1,000 employes including 100 pilots when it slashed fuel-wasting flights.

Complaints are coming in right "across the board," said one labor spokesman who is at the receiving end of a network of informatipn pipelines from coast to coast.

Extremely significant is the Nov. 14 letter dispatched by Teamsters general president Frank Fitzsimmons to Sen. Henry Jackson, floor leader of the push for a national energy control bill.

Fitz endorsed the bill-- but warned that the 50- mile- an- hour speed limit on commercial vehicles would cut the• union drivers' income down by 20 per cent. Drivers are paid by the mile as well as by straight rates.

Fitz warned that the Teamsters never could accept the slower speed gas- saving measure--- and the union would move to reopen the national master freight hauling contract it signed with the Trucking Employers, Inc., earlier this year, covering some 400,000 men. Other unions would follow suit.

There could be industrial and labor upheavals. Yet this nation is less than 15 per cent behind the energy supply of normal years. There's a mystery here which needs solving-- planning, yes; panic, no.

Firemen answer 3 calls

Firemen were called out three times Saturday.

They were called at 3:20 p.m. to the back of the Malone and Hyde property where a cutting torch had set fire to weeds.

At 4:20 p.m., they were called to Hart's Bakery when fuel oil was spilled. The oil was pumped up and taken to another location to be dumped.

At 7:20 p.m., a car belonging to Don Culbertson caught fire in the parking lot at Wal- Mart Discount City on East Malone Avenue. The fire was caused by a carburetor backfire. Damage was minor.

Ann Landers

"Lookers" sometimes turn into "buyers"

Dear Ann Landers: Do a lot of people a favor and print this. It's for those folks who are "just looking."

I've been working in retail shops for 30 years. If I don't know the score by now I never will. I can tell a buyer from a "looker" a mile away. But some of the less experienced salespeople can't. It's no crime to walk into a store and browse. Many shops encourage it. But it isn't fair to tie up a salesperson for 30 minutes trying on everything in the place just to kill time. That salesperson might be on commission. While he is fooling around with you he may be losing important commissions on serious customers.

So please tell your readers to play fair. If they are "just looking," it's perfectly O. K. But have the courtesy to say so.--- Falling Arches

Dear Arch: I'm sure you know your business better than I do but some "lookers" turn into buyers. Moreover, the salesperson who is courteous and friendly to everyone who walks into a store whether he buys or not is going to run a bigger book in the long haul.

Dear Ann Landers: My nine- year- old brother has figured out a way to annoy me and I am at his mercy. He creeps up behind me very quietly and I don't know he's there. He suddenly grabs me around the neck like he's going to strangle me and screams "I gotcha!" I live in Boston so you can see how serious this is.

Will you please tell me what I can do to protect myself? I have told Mom and she says it's not such a terrible thing and she doesn't want to hear any more about it. I am 13 years old and I read your column every single day. I need some of your good advice.--- Brookline Goosepimples

Dear Goose: People who are frightened in that manner have been known to throw a wild punch at the unknown attacker--- in self- defense, of course. I am a believer in nonviolence, but there are times (like Pearl Harbor) when it is imperative that retaliatory measures be taken.

Dear Ann Landers: I do not agree that "so long as children get an allowance anyway" they should get paid for doing chores around the house.

The "what's in it for me" attitude is all too prevalent in our society. Why should we promote it by paying a child for cleaning up his own room?

Our son would no sooner expect to be paid for taking out the family garbage than I would expect to be paid for cooking a meal. He doesn't expect to be paid for taking out the garbage for the elderly lady next door either, but sometimes she bakes cookies for him. No charge.

Our oldest daughter babysits for us and for a young mother who recently lost her husband. Sometimes she is paid with money and other times with words of appreciation, but she doesn't feel underpaid either way.

Our children are richer for having learned that family members help each other and expect nothing in return. In this way they learn to help others. And isn't this what brotherly love is all about?--- Rich But Not Wealthy In Austin

Dear R. But Not W.: I happen to believe that tying daily chores to a child's allowance is a good way to teach the relationship between work, responsibility and rewards. There are still many things a child can do for which he gets nothing more than warm thanks. And every parent should see to it that his child gets those opportunities.

Is alcoholism ruining your life? Know the danger signals and what to do. Read the booklet, "Alcoholism-- Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35c in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self- addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P. O. Box 3346, Chicago, Ill. 60654.

How to recognize and report a gas leak.

At Associated Natural Gas Company we stay alert for signs of trouble. Once in a while in our hundreds of miles of pipeline there may be a gas leak. Therefore, you can help us if you recognize a gas leak and report it to us so that we can correct the problem immediately.

How to detect a gas leak:

Natural gas cannot be seen and it is odorless. However, we've added a chemical to the gas so that if it ever does leak out, you can smell a particular odor.

In case of an underground leakage, vegetation nearby sometimes becomes discolored. For example, yellow spots may appear on foliage or grass.

What to do if you suspect a leak:

If you suspect a gas leak, report the location immediately to the nearest Associated Natural Gas Company office. Take care to prevent a spark.

If you suspect a leak indoors, open the doors and windows to allow the gas to escape. Call your local Associated Natural Gas Company office and report the leak immediately.

Lilbourn No. 1

By BILL HARRISON

WARDELL — The Lilbourn Panthers took the championship of the North Pemiscot invitational tournament here Saturday night with a 63-61 victory over the host Mustangs. New Madrid won the consolation game 60-44 over Delta C-7.

After a lack lustre shooting performance by both clubs the game ended in spectacular fashion as the score was tied with a minute and half left in the game and coach Larry Warren had his Panthers stall as NPHS stayed in their 2-3 zone and the clock ticked away until Lilbourn called time out with 15 seconds showing. With four seconds remaining Carl Meadows drove in from the left side and hit a five foot jumper to give the Panthers the win. The Mustangs had the ball with two seconds left but missed the shot that could have tied the game.

Lilbourn jumped out in front in the first few minutes of the first period and looked as if they would make easy work of the Mustangs but some missed shots and numerous fouls, which coach Warren questioned vigorously, let the Mustangs hand in the game until the final buzzer.

Both teams were getting a lot of iron on their shots and a few air balls were put up.

NPHS took a four point lead in the third period as Jerry Stewart, a 5-10 sophomore guard began to hit with good regularity. Lilbourn's Claude McFerren hit two jumpers from the 30 foot range and the Panthers were back in the game.

The two teams traded buckets throughout the fourth period until Lilbourn took over at the end.

The New Madrid Indians had little trouble with the Delta C-7 Chargers of coach Randy Benson. The Indians were able to work the ball inside for the easy jumper most of the game.

Braves surprise PHS

MORLEY — Coach Ronnie Cookson played giant killer again Friday night as his little Scott Central Braves whipped the Parma Pirates 66-61 for their second win of the young season in which Cookson's boys weren't expected to have a winning season.

The Braves don't look like much as far as basketball is concerned but when the game is started Scott Central moves into high gear and their opponent had better have a firm grip on the ball or the ball hawking Braves slap it loose and dump in two points.

The Braves rely on their quick hands and hustle to outmaneuver the opposition and so far the giants have fell.

SCHS started their press early against the Pirates and with Robert Cook, Danny Peet, and Kenny Bright doing the scoring the Braves held a two point, 14-12 first period lead.

Before the Pirates could solve the defensive tactics of the smaller Braves Coach Cookson's little pest had outscored Mark Rasher's Pirates 16-12 in the second period and held a 30-24 halftime lead.

The Braves came out in the second half and continued to give Parma more than they could handle and managed to keep control of the game as Parma popped in 19 points to 18 for Scott Central.

The five point lead enjoyed by the Braves held up through the final eight minutes of play as each team scored 18 points.

SCHS hit 26 field goal shots and 14 free throws and Parma hit 25 from the field and 11 free tosses.

Kenny Bright, last years standout defensive performer proved again to be a game player as the 6-1 post man missed practice all week with illness, pumped in 18 points to lead the Braves in scoring and pulled down 14 rebounds. Bright missed practice prior to the Advance game and blocked several shots and scored 24 points. Danny Peet hit 16 and Cook socred 14. Steve Gibson hit 16 and Rufus Barnes scored 14.

Scott Central won the B game 67-44 with Porter scoring 26 points followed by Williams with 22. Thatch hit 18 for Parma.

NASHVILLE (AP) — The Country Music Assn. has given its endorsement to The American Freedom Train Foundation, a nonprofit organization that will celebrate the nation's bicentennial with a steam-powered display train, a "fair on wheels" which will tour the country.

The train will begin its journey April 1, 1975, and continue for at least 15 months. Its cars will have slides, music and artifacts. The Country Music Assn. may lend some of its Hall of Fame collection.

Indians take dogs

HAYTI — Coach Jerry Cecil's HHS Indians won their final game of the season by defeating the Portageville Bulldogs 14-0 in South Conference action Friday night.

The first quarter remained scoreless and then in the second quarter Hayti mounted a 25 yard drive that set-up a three yard touchdown run by Danny White. Mark Cartee kicked the extra point making the score 14-0 at the half.

There was very little action in the third quarter and the fourth quarter was marked by a 70 yard drive that resulted in a one yard touchdown plunge, again by White. Cartee again kicked the extra point making the final score 14-0.

Hayti ended the season with a 6-3 record, the leading scorer for the Indians is Jim Morgan with 40 points for the season followed by Danny White with 32. The Indians ended the season with 150 total offensive points while their defense allowed 93.

Portageville's season mark was 5-5, they scored 138 total offensive while their defense allowed 123. Their leading scorer was Robert Daily with 42 points followed by Billy Gibson with 41.

In the South Conference, Hayti is 4-2 and Portageville is 4-2.

ATLANTA (AP) — A new $50,000 Ladies PGA golf tournament has been set for Nov. 30-Dec. 1-2 in the Tokyo area. A minimum of 23 American women will play in the tournament including Kathy Whitworth, Carol Mann, Sandra Palmer, Marlene Hagge and Jane Blalock.

Interest in women's golf has been stimulated in recent years by the appearance of four Japanese girls in tournaments in the United States. Chako Higuchi earned more than $10,000 in eight American tournaments this year.

Raiders win opener

POPLAR BLUFF--- Sophomores Mike Edwards and Dave Beckering teamed for 42 points, scoring 24 and 18 respectively, in leading the Three Rivers Community College Raiders to a 100- 85 opening season victory over Southern Baptist College of Walnut Ridge, Ark., Saturday night.

The victory, TRCC's 15th straight in the seven year history of the school, was questionable through most of the first half as the Arkansasans battled the taller, talented host with lightning speed and fast breaks while holding the advantage most of the time.

Coach Gene Bess' Raiders stormed from their 48- 44 halftime advantage into a quick 20 point advantage early in the second half, using their familiar pressing tactics sharp shooting to put the game away.

Raider defense

Fred Rowe (43), former Scott County Central high school standout, slaps the basketball away from the goal Saturday night for the Three Rivers Community College Raiders as they defeated Southern Baptist of Walnut Ridge, Ark., 100-85.

Freshmen, Fred Rowe of Morley and Alvin Pierce of Charleston added to the Raiders offense with 14 and 12 points respectively.

TRCC plays host to Meramec Nov. 29 in a MJCAC league opener.

Hornets sting OHS

ORAN--- The Advance Hornets looked like a determined basketball team here Friday night as Coach Carroll Cookson's team whipped the Eagles of coach Joe Scott, 79- 64.

Advance was surprised last week by the upstart Scott Central Braves and coach Cookson was not about to have any more like that one so the Eagles had to bear the brunt of their wrath.

Just when it looked as if the Hornets were too young to sting anyone this season the offense began to jell and the Hornets had their five starters hit in double figures in the game.

The Hornets came out running in the first period and built up a 24- 11 lead and looked as if they were going to have a real laugher but Oran took the ball away a few times early in the second period and before the Hornets could relax the game was becoming dangerously close. Advance was outscored 19- 18 and held a 42- 30 halftime lead.

Advance held a 10 point lead for the most part through the second half.

Dennis Dunivan scored 13, Roger Daniels 12, Jo David Cummins 18, Ronnie Oller 20, and David Tropf 16. Ray Cook hit 24 for the Eagles.

Advance romped over the Eagles in the B game 71- 39. Steve Cookson fired in 22 points for the Hornets and Tom Dirnberger hit 9 for the Eagles.

DIAL DOWN TO NO MORE THAN 68° DURING THE DAY.

IF WE ALL SET OUR THERMOSTATS A LITTLE LOWER, WE CAN EASE THE HEATING FUEL SHORTAGE.

Our country is going to be short of heating fuel this winter. All kinds of heating fuels—oil, gas, electric. It's part of the national energy crisis the President talked about on TV.

How bad the shortage will be depends on two things: the severity of the weather, and what we all do to conserve the fuel supply.

We can't do anything about the weather, but there's a lot we can do to conserve. The easiest thing is to dial down the thermostat so the heating system doesn't use as much fuel.

Keep the thermostat set at no more than 68° during the day, and lower it even more overnight when the family is snug in bed.

Just doing this will save important amounts of fuel, no matter what kind of fuel you burn. If we all do it, enough fuel will be saved to ease the shortage.

WHAT HAPPENS IF WE DON'T CONSERVE?

If we don't conserve, the shortage will begin to affect all of us personally and importantly. As the fuel supply gets short, schools will have to close. Businesses will close, too.

Electric utilities that use heating oil to generate electric power will be forced into brownouts. In short, our entire economy could be affected.

Conversely, if we all conserve a little, there won't be as much of a shortage, and we won't feel it as badly.

THE GASOLINE YOU DIDN'T USE LAST SUMMER BEAT THAT SHORTAGE

Last summer, the country was headed for a gasoline shortage. And people conserved gasoline to help ease it. For example, in the month of July, official records show that automobile traffic on interstate highways and attendance at national parks was down substantially over the same month the preceding year.

The result was that very few communities suffered severe run-outs. In fact, most people felt nothing more than a minor inconvenience.

WHAT STANDARD IS DOING TO EASE THE SHORTAGE

This ad is part of a total communications program on our part to help conserve heating fuel. We're telling all Standard employees to dial down, both at work and at home. We're urging other businesses to dial down, too. And we're asking you to do the same. It's a job for all of us because it's important to all of us.

We are trying to make enough heating oil to supply our customers' needs this winter. But we can only get so much crude oil, and it may not be enough to keep our refineries going at top production.

We are spending 88 million dollars so our Texas City refinery can handle high sulfur foreign crude oil.

We have allocated our inventories of heating oil as fairly as we know how, and we are participating in the government's allocation program.

Further, we stand ready to implement special emergency plans in areas where the heating fuel shortage hits the hardest.

NOW IS THE TIME TO START CONSERVING

The heating fuel you conserve in the early part of the year will make that much more available when the really cold weather hits.

Indians claim MIAA championship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southeast Missouri State got all the help it needed from quarterback Lance Brune and from Southwest Missouri Saturday to wrap up the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association football championship.

Southeast, with Brune passing for four touchdowns, rocked Central Missouri, 27-0, to finish with a 5-1 MIAA record. That assured the Indians of at least a tie for the title, since Lincoln was 3-1 in the league with two more games to play beginning the day.

But Southwest, which only one week earlier had shocked defending MIAA champ Northwest, ended the race by running down Lincoln, 17-0. It was only the third victory in 10 starts for the Bears, but their 3-3 conference mark assures them of no worse than fourth in the standings.

In the only other MIAA action Saturday, Northeast and Rolla settled for a 7-7 tie when a 37-yard Northeast field goal attempt sailed awry with 10 seconds left.

Rolla now is 1-3-1 going into a Thanksgiving Day trip to Jefferson City, when Lincoln puts a 3-2 MIAA mark on the line. Northwest is now alone in second place at 4-2, while Northeast finishes 2-3-1 and Central last at 1-5.

In independent action Saturday, Missouri Southern saw its fall from last year's perfect campaign completed with a 1614 loss to Arkansas Tech. That gave the Lions a losing 4-6 mark for the season to go with 1972's 11-0 reading.

Washington University climbed to 5-2-1 by battering Washington and Lee, 21-8, and Missouri Western added some glitter to a 4-5-1 windup by upsetting Doane College, 20-16, at Crete, Neb.

Brune hit 24 of 34 attempts for Southeast, good for 271 yards.

After a scoreless first half, the Indians turned two turnovers into touchdowns in a twominute span at the outset of the third quarter.

Telephone line cut; wiring stolen

LUTESVILLE — A telephone line was cut down about 11:30 p.m. Sunday eight miles south of Lutesville and an undetermined amount of wiring was stolen, according to the highway patrol, which was notified about midnight by an employe of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The longest poem ever written was the "Mahabaharata" which appeared in India around 400 B.C. It runs to 220,000 lines.

Senate emergency energy legislation nearing passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate smarting from charges of inaction is nearing expected passage of emergency legislation that would give President Nixon most of the powers he says he needs to meet the energy crisis.

But the bill, which was scheduled for a final vote late this afternoon, could not become law until some time next week at the earliest, since it also must pass the House which does not return from Thanksgiving recess until Nov. 26.

In his Saturday news conference, President Nixon said Congress had not acted on energy proposals he had made as long as two years ago. Nixon said Congress had sent him only one of his seven pieces of priority energy legislation, the Alaska pipeline bill.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., reacted to the President's statement by saying flatly, "He is wrong." Appearing Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," Mansfield accused the President of being long on rhetoric and proposals but short on specific legislative programs.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., appearing on CBS' "Face the Nation," said Nixon's statement was "very hard to understand." Proxmire said "the President simply hasn't grasped" the severity of the situation, which according to a Library of Congress study could result in fuel shortages of up to 35 per cent.

David Rockefeller, head of the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York, predicted that the crisis could lead to a zero growth rate for the nation next year and a 6 per cent drop in industrial production. Rockefeller, interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers," said the economists' best estimates is that the fuel shortages will result in a cut of $3 million a day in the economy's growth.

Mansfield and Proxmire also differed with the President on the need for gasoline rationing. Nixon said in his televised press conference he hoped to avoid rationing.

According to Mansfield, Nixon's reluctance to impose rationing is "just paving the way to a recession next year." Proxmire said, "I think gasoline rationing is essential, we have to have it no matter what happens, no matter how much relief we might even get from the end of the Arab boycott."

The measure before the Senate today would give the President the authority, but not require him, to order rationing of gasoline or any other scarce fuel.

The bill by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., also would authorize such energy-saving steps as lowered thermostats, reduced speed limits and shorter school days.

other items to consider—reducing the speed limit to 60 miles per hour, expanding the merit system and tightening the campaign spending laws.

The biggest headache of those is expected to be the merit system. It was debated for several days in the Senate and finally included in the reorganization bill to cover the Revenue Department. Bond wants to expand it to other areas. About half of the state's 55,000 exmployes are in the merit system.

Volkmer and Rep. Richard DeCoster, D-Canton, assistant House speaker, said they favored a special session solely on reorganization.

Sen. Jack Gant, D-Independence, said he thought most legislators didn't want a special session at all but were willing to take the time to work on reorganization, which was called for in a constitutional amendment approved in 1972.

The special session which can last 60 days, may overlap with the regular session starting Jan. 9.

DeCoster said the session could have been called several months ago, and he resented it being called when legislators are getting ready for the regular session—bills will be prefiled Dec. 3—and preparing for the holidays.

In addition, the House chamber is undergoing renovation and may not be finished in time, DeCoster said. The House leadership decided to repair the chambers when it appeared Bond would not call a special session.

"Calling a special session now would be about like going coon hunting in the daytime," said Sen. William J. Cason, D-Clinton, Bond's principal foe on reorganization.
